APA REFERENCES PAGE

The References page lists all of the sources you cited in your paper. Note the guidelines below:

1. Place the References list at the end of your paper on a new numbered page that includes your running head (see the Writing Center handout “APA Paper Format” for information about creating and formatting your running head).
2. Center the title References on the first line.
3. Alphabetize the list by the authors' last names. (If there is no author, alphabetize by title, ignoring unimportant words, such as “And,” “A,” “Of,” and “The.”)
4. Double-space throughout the list.
5. Use a hanging indent (do not indent the first line in each entry, but indent any additional lines 5 spaces).

These guidelines are based on the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (6th ed.). For additional information on References pages, you may consult the manual copy in the IVCC Writing Center or in Jacobs Library.

Note: If you use NoodleBib, another citation generator, or citation information in an online database, you are responsible for making sure that your References page and References page entries follow APA guidelines.

For a correctly formatted sample References page, see the back of this sheet.

Note these important formatting aspects:

- The page is labeled References
- Every line is evenly double spaced with no single spacing or extra spaces
- Second and third lines of entries are indented
- The entries are alphabetized
- The overall formatting is the same as the rest of the essay. The margins are 1" and the page number continues.
- At the top, where RUNNING HEAD is shown, place a shortened version of your own title in all capital letters
